● PROFILE OF MDK GIRLS' COLLEGE

The town of Dibrugarh has a glorious background in the history of women's education in N. E. India. It was in Dibrugarh that the first Girls' High School was established in Assam in the year 1885, which is now known as Dibrugarh Govt. Girls' Higher Secondary and multi-purpose school. Before the establishment of this school, girls had to go outside Assam to complete High School with the help of scholarships granted by the State Government. In 1945, with the establishment of the Dibrugarh College (renamed as D. H. S. K. College), higher education was brought within easy reach of the local people and many girl students were enrolled. Gradually, the number of girl students increased manifold so that the idea of a separate college for women was mooted. Soon the idea was translated into action and classes were held in the morning at the Kanoi College premises. Meanwhile, with the collective efforts of many devoted experts having long academic experience in the field of education notably L. P. Dutta and G. C. Sharma, Hanumanbox Kanoi agreed to construct the building in memory of his wife Manohari Devi Kanoi after whom the college has been named. The state education minister helped in the acquisition of government land.

The college started functioning in July 1963 under the principalship of Dr. Jogiraj Basu, noted Oriental scholar. Starting with the total strength of 270, the college now has an enrolment of approximately 1800 students. The increasing demand for seats in the college has made it difficult for the management of the College to accommodate all applicants seeking admission. To cater to the needs of the students, self-financing undergraduate science stream was initiated by the college in the year 2016 in a separate campus at Khalihamari. M.D.K. Girls' College is affiliated to Dibrugarh University and its Higher Secondary Course is recognized by Assam Higher Secondary Education Council, AHSEC.

The main campus of the college is located at Kadamoni and the second campus is located at Khalihamari. As the college campuses are located within the city the college is well connected by roads, railways & airways.

The college has qualified, committed, and devoted faculties prepared to take extra care of students. There are 20 departments teaching different subjects in the college. Apart from their academic duties, teachers are associated with several social, cultural, research and sporting activities enriching the corporate life inside and outside the college. Teachers are engaged in research works like Minor Research Projects sponsored by the UGC while a significant number of teachers have completed their Ph. D. degree from various universities.

Consistent good results, development of multi-purpose potential in the girls throughout the years have proved that MDKG College is an ideal Arts and Science college for women. It takes pride in the fact that it is the first women's college in the district and had done yeoman's service to the cause of women's education in Assam. College takes pride as a good number of students secure positions both in Higher Secondary and undergraduate levels. Besides academics, students excel in the sphere of sports and co-curricular activities, participating and winning at state and national level competitions. The college also has a number of cells and study circles to promote extracurricular activities.

● NAAC ACCREDITATION

The college was accredited with grade B++ in November, 2004 by NAAC. It is significant as it was the second women's college and one of the few colleges of Assam so far to be graded with B++ in the concerned year. The institute had been reaccredited with Grade 'B' (CGPA: 2.9) by NAAC in the year 2011. The College has been accredited for the 3rd cycle and has been awarded Grade B (CGPA: 2.39) in 2018. The college is gearing up for 4th cycle of accreditation.

The Ministry of Human Resource Development (MHRD) Govt. of India has adopted the National Institutional Ranking Framework, which ranks the Best Colleges and Universities in India since 2015. For the year 2018 MHRD has selected MDK GIRLS' COLLEGE as one of the best colleges among the 200 best colleges in India. In this year only 6 colleges of Assam are selected and our college is placed in the Rank between 150 to 200. The college also participated in the year 2019. Dr. Rizia Begum Laskar is working as NIRF Coordinator in the college.
